

Nanosafety 2020

05 - 07 October 2020 in Zaragoza, Spain

Our 3rd conference dedicated to the safety of nanoobjects and nanomaterials will take place this October in Zaragoza, Spain.

Just like in the last two conferences on the topic, we expect about 100 experts from the materials sciences, biology, toxicology, informatics, and other fields to bring their unique knowledge into in-depth discussions on all aspects nanosafety.

The cooperative and highly interdisciplinary atmosphere at the conference will attract many decision-makers, as well as young, emerging scientists who are shaping the future of nanosafety research.

TARGET-ORIENTED CAMPAIGN

With participants specialized in different aspects of nanosafety research, Nanosafety 2020 offers you a great opportunity to target your product presentation precisely towards an audience with very specific interests.

EXCELLENT NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

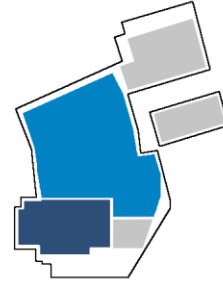

The exhibition will be open on all three congress' days and located directly by the main session room and poster area. All coffee and lunch breaks will be hosted in the exhibition area. Thus, exhibitors can expect an excellent opportunity to maintain long-lasting and build new business relations.
